ODIHR's Key Observation

ODIHR notes the year-to-year increase in numbers of investigated, prosecuted, and adjudicated hate crimes. However, based on the available information, it observes that Andorra's hate crime recording and statistics do not sufficiently distinguish hate crimes from other crimes. In addition, ODIHR observes that Andorra would benefit from reviewing its existing legal framework in order to ensure that bias motivation can be effectively acknowledged and appropriate penalties can be imposed on the perpetrators.

Official Data

Figures reported by the Andorran police, including regarding sentenced cases, may include acts that fall outside of the OSCE's definition of hate crime. From the eight hate crimes recorded by the Andorran police, three perpetrators were prosecuted and two received a condemnatory sentence.
