Summary

Bulgaria regularly reports hate crime data to ODIHR. Bulgaria implemented ODIHR's Training Against Hate Crime for Law Enforcement (TAHCLE) programme from 2012 until 2017. Bulgaria also took part in ODIHR's project on "Building a Comprehensive Criminal Justice Response to Hate Crime", helping to develop a joint training programme for police and prosecutors that was piloted in the country. Bulgaria has also made efforts to improve hate crime identification, recording and data collection systems through ODIHR's Information Against Hate Crimes Toolkit (INFAHCT) programme. ODIHR completed a review of Bulgaria's hate crime legislation in 2018.

ODIHR's Key Observation

ODIHR recognizes Bulgaria's efforts to regularly report hate crimes to ODIHR. However, based on the available information, it observes that Bulgaria's law enforcement agencies have not recorded the bias motivations of hate crimes. In addition, ODIHR observes that Bulgaria would benefit from reviewing its existing legal framework to ensure that bias motivations can be effectively acknowledged and appropriate penalties can be imposed on the perpetrators.

Official Data

The numbers recorded by the police refer to cases registered under substantive offences, some of which may be hate speech provisions. Along with offences committed out of "hooligan motives", such offences fall outside of the OSCE's hate crime definition. The records on prosecuted cases and sentencing judgments also include discrimination-based offences, which fall outside of the OSCE's hate crime definition.
