ODIHR's Key Observation

ODIHR observes that Kyrgyzstan has not reported hate crime information and statistics to ODIHR for the 2024 Hate Crime Report. In the absence of an official submission and statistics, ODIHR is not able to provide further observations on hate crime data collection in Kyrgyzstan. In addition, ODIHR observes that Kyrgyzstan would benefit from raising awareness among and building the capacity of law enforcement and criminal justice officials to address hate crimes.

Incidents reported by civil society

For 2025, ODIHR received reports of hate incidents in Kyrgyzstan from the Eurasian Coalition on Health, Rights, Gender and Sexual Diversity (ECOM).

To learn more about the civil society organizations that report hate incidents to ODIHR, visit the Contributors page.

Individual incidents submitted by CSOs have been analysed by ODIHR. Those that are broadly considered to be hate crimes within the OSCE definition (criminal offence committed with a bias motive) are listed in the tables below according to the bias motivation category. Some incidents involved multiple biases and may be listed in multiple categories.

ODIHR's insights

For 2025, ODIHR received reports of seven incidents that took place in Kyrgyzstan targeting a total of ten victims in the anti-LGBTI bias motivation category, with most incidents involving both anti-LGBTI and gender-based bias motivations. ODIHR observes that a low number of incidents were reported in Kyrgyzstan for 2025.

ODIHR observes that most of the incidents reported to ODIHR targeted transgender persons (and were therefore motivated by both anti-LGBTI and gender-based bias), and involved physical assaults and threats at home, in public spaces, and in police stations. ODIHR also observes a number of incidents targeting gay men and involving physical assaults and an abduction perpetrated by groups, including the use of physical violence, extortion and threats by police related to a victim's HIV status.

It should be noted that ODIHR did not receive any reporting related to anti-Christian, anti-Muslim, anti-Roma, anti-Semitic, disability, racist and xenophobic, and other religion or belief hate incidents in Kyrgyzstan. This indicates potential gaps in the information reported here.
Please note that incidents reported here are based on voluntary civil society submissions and as such do not reflect the actual number of incidents or the most targeted communities in Kyrgyzstan.

To address under-reporting, ODIHR encourages any civil society organizations or groups that monitor hate incidents to report these to ODIHR at hatecrimereport@odihr.pl.
