ODIHR's Key Observation

ODIHR recognizes Liechtenstein's efforts to report hate crimes to ODIHR. However, based on the available information, it observes that Liechtenstein has not reported statistics on hate crimes to ODIHR. In addition, ODIHR observes that Liechtenstein would benefit from raising awareness among and building the capacity of law enforcement and criminal justice officials to address hate crime.

Official Data

Liechtenstein began recording the bias motivations of crimes at the end of 2025; therefore, hate crime data for 2025 is not available.

Year	Hate crimes recorded by police	Prosecuted	Sentenced

No data reported to ODIHR.

National Developments

As of the end of 2025, the National Police began recording the bias motivations of crimes, with the first statistics on hate crimes expected in 2026. In 2025, the National Police introduced an e-learning course and published an internal brochure on hate crime for their employees. The aim was to raise staff awareness of hate crimes and to ensure that such offences are recorded accurately in the police database, specifying a criminal offence and a bias motive.

Incidents reported by civil society

For 2025, ODIHR did not receive any reports of hate incidents in Liechtenstein from civil society organizations. This is not an indication that hate crimes are not taking place, only that they have not been reported to civil society or to ODIHR.

To address under-reporting, ODIHR encourages any civil society organizations or groups that monitor hate incidents in Liechtenstein to report these to ODIHR at hatecrimereport@odihr.pl.
