Summary

Switzerland regularly reports hate crime data to ODIHR. Switzerland's Criminal Code contains no hate crime provision, and hate crimes are addressed under anti-discrimination criminal provisions. The Federal Commission against Racism partners with the association 'humanrights.ch' in the Counselling Network for Victims of Racism, which publishes annual analytical reports on cases of racism reported to the Network.

ODIHR's Key Observation

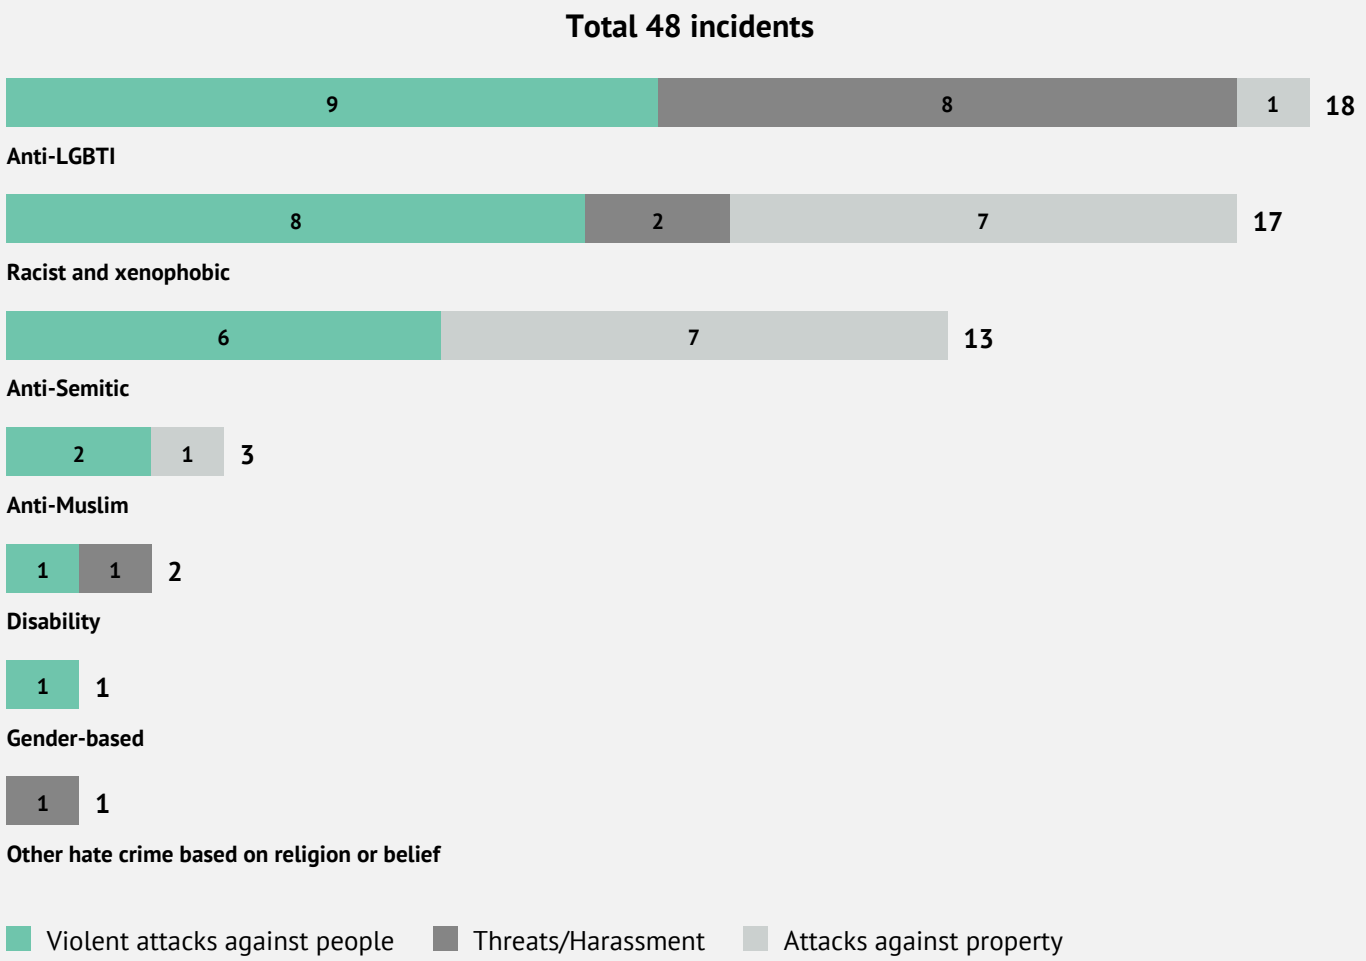

ODIHR observes that Switzerland has not reported on hate crimes separately from cases of hate speech or discrimination.

Official Data

Figures consist of hate crimes committed in public, crimes of incitement to hatred and crimes involving discrimination. As such, many of incidents listed here fall outside of the OSCE's hate crime definition. A breakdown of sentencing judgments by bias motivation was reported to ODIHR. The figure for sentenced cases was updated in October 2024 as per the official request to reflect the changes in the official statistics due to more cases added once judgements became legally binding.

Incidents reported by civil society

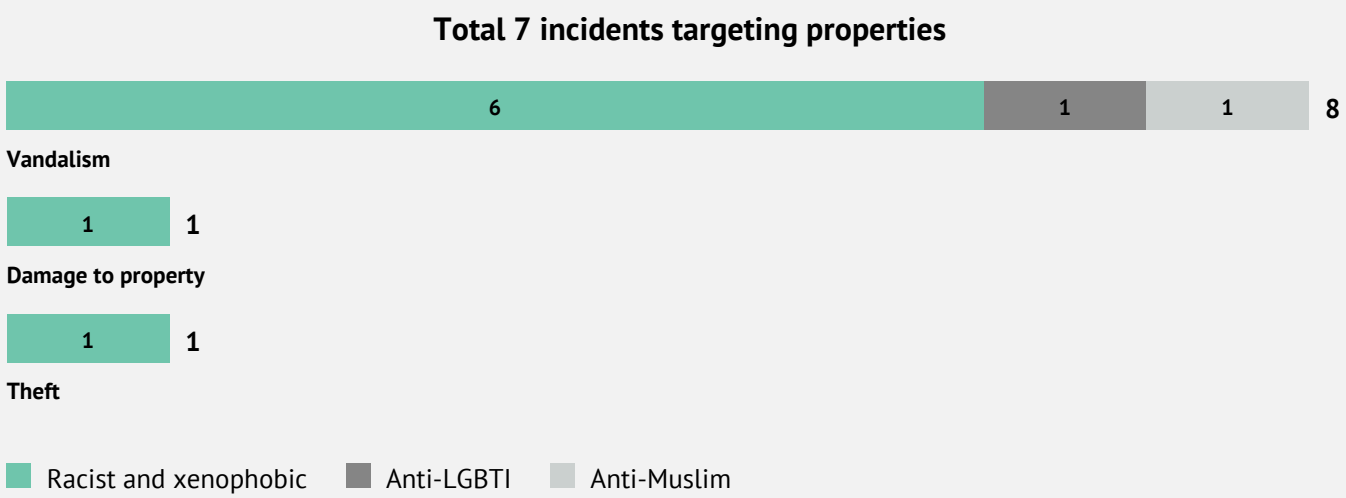

Please note that the total number of incidents may be lower than the sum of incidents presented in the breakdown chart above, as some incidents involve multiple bias motivations.

Swiss Federation of Jewish Communities (SIG) and Kantor Center reported only statistical data. This explains the discrepancy between the graphic above and the incidents included below.
