ODIHR's Key Observation

ODIHR recognizes Türkiye's efforts to provide training on hate crimes to police officers across the country. However, based on available information, ODIHR observes that Türkiye's law enforcement agencies have not recorded the bias motivations of hate crimes. In addition, ODIHR also observes that Türkiye would benefit from reviewing the existing legal framework to ensure that bias motivations can be effectively acknowledged and appropriate penalties imposed on the perpetrators.

The Institution is a consultative body tasked with discussing and proposing solutions to issues related to discrimination and hate crimes, and is composed of representatives of public institutions, CSOs and academia.

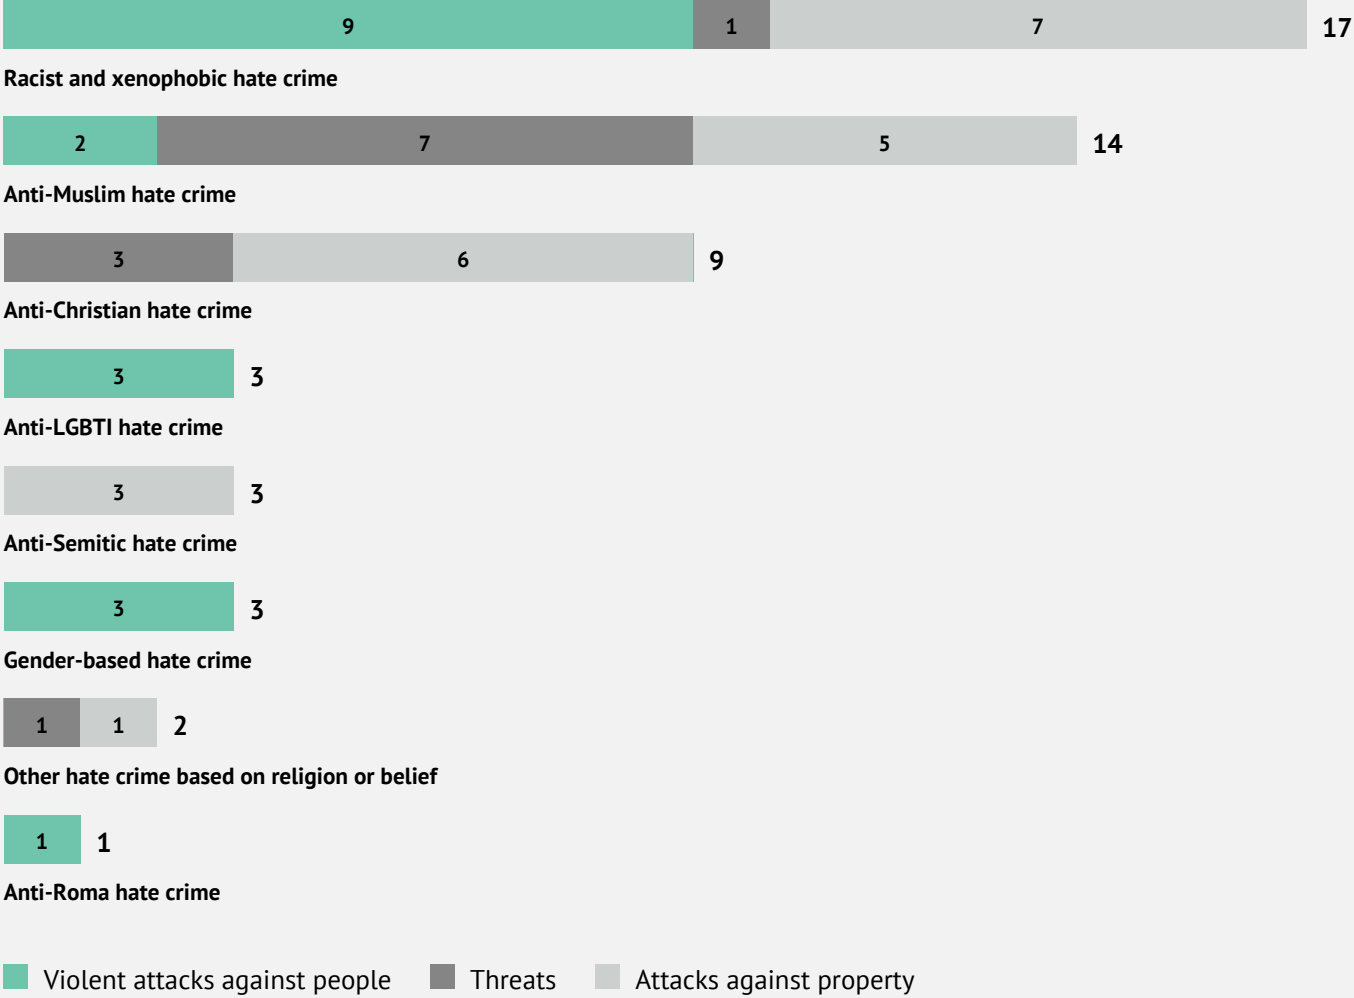

In 2022, the Ministry of Justice of Türkiye continued to expand the network of Directorates of Judicial Support and Victim Services established in courthouses. The Directorates serve to inform victims of their rights. The Ministry has also increased the number of special interviewing premises for vulnerable victims, including victims of hate crimes.

Throughout the year, training on hate crimes based on ODIHR's TAHCLE curriculum continued. In 2022, 113 new hate crime trainers received instruction, 21,719 police and guard candidates received hate crime training as part of their pre-service courses; information seminars on hate crime reached 42,718 personnel; and courses for the provincial gendarmerie were delivered to 121,478 personnel.
